

Taking the Leap... Transition to ISO 27001:2022

Awareness - 1 hour video to include:

- What's new?
- What do we need to update/add?
- Breakdown of the 4 critical areas (Technological, Organisational, People and Physical)

Transition Action Plan for implementation (1 day)

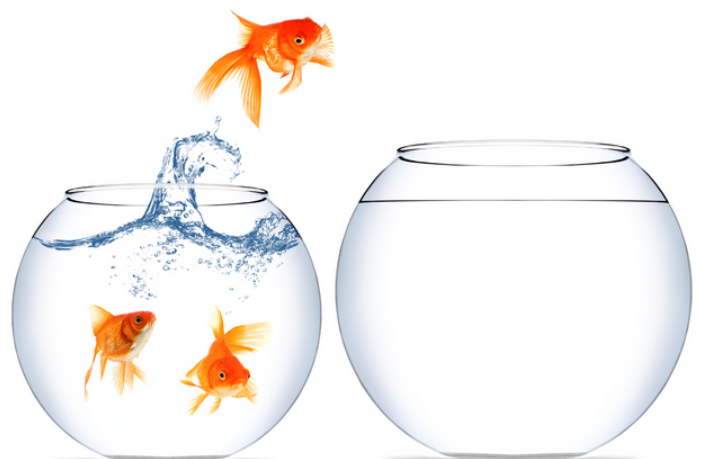

ISO 27001:2022 Implementation support (3 days)

ISO 27001:2022 Internal audit support (1 day)

External Certification Body assessment support (2 days)

Upcoming training:

11 Coffee Break Training videos explaining each of the new controls for ISO 27001:2022

485AA5

Why transition to ISO 27001:2022?

Your ISO 27001:2013 certification will only have a few more years to run before it becomes invalid. If you want to retain your ISO 27001 certification then you will need to transition to the 2022 version within 2 years of it's publication.

If you miss the transition period then you will have to reapply for certification by completing a Stage 1 and 2 Assessment, which can be costly.

Benefits of transition

As well as retaining your certified status, there are many other benefits to transition to ISO 27001:2022, those include;

Keep up-to-date with the latest cyber security controls

Enable links to other security frameworks such as cyber essentials and NIST

Easier integration with other ISO 27000 Standards, such as ISO 27017 (Cloud Security) and ISO 27701 (Privacy Information Security)

A chance to re-visit and revamp your Management System

What needs to be done?

Transition to ISO 27001:2022 will include various updates to your existing Management System, this includes, updating your Statement of Applicability, Internal Audit Schedule, Continual Improvement log and Management Review.

The new controls will also need to be embedded into your system - A transition is not just a bolt on to your existing management system. The whole process is a marathon, not a sprint.

Blackmores will support you on your transition journey by providing you with tools and awareness training to meet the needs of your Management system and business