

ISOLOGYHUB CREATOR

WHO IS MEL BLACKMORE?

Melanie Blackmore, CEO, podcaster, author and and entrepreneur is a passionate advocate for sustainability, business excellence and empowering organisations to go above & beyond.

Melanie has been involved with the creation, development and implementation of British and International standards for over 20 years.

BLACKMORES (UK) LTD

With her passion for improving business performance through the implementation of Management Systems, Melanie founded her first business in the International standards sector in 2006, Blackmores (UK) Ltd, a consultancy firm which implements and maintains management systems for clients ranging from SME's to blue chip organisations.

Blackmores (UK) Ltd rapidly grew to be an award winning, leading provider of consultancy services, specialising in environmental, quality and risk standards and offering expertise on the widest range of standards in Europe. Her clients are spread across a broad spectrum of sectors including manufacturing, telecommunications, IT, retail, transport, healthcare, public sector and construction to name but a few.

Meet Mel Blackmore

CEO, podcaster, author, entrepreneur and creator of the isologyhub

Later in 2021, Melanie launched a game-changing innovation in her field, called the isologyhub, which is a membership-based platform that companies or individuals can use to get a comprehensive, step-by-step understanding of how to become ISO certified and create world class systems for success.

Lastly, in 2023 Melanie founded a subsidiary company, Carbonology®, as a result of growth in demand for sustainability standards, and in particular carbon standards.

A thought-leader in her field, Mel Blackmore is also founder of the leading podcast on ISO Standards, 'The ISO Show'. She's hosted over 160 podcasts which cover sustainability, quality, risk and information security standards. Committed to sharing knowledge, Mel actively shares her knowledge as a speaker, lecturer, and podcaster.